

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A system and method for managing photo releases which includes a digital image capture device a device for display at least a representative image of a captured original image and for displaying a photo release associated with the 5 at least one individual with respect to the captured digital image. The display device provided for the obtaining of an authorization signature by the at least one individual with respect to the original captured digital image; and for associating the authorization signature as metadata with respect to the original image.